

Representation of peat extraction in the upper and subfield process

Successfully renaturated mire

An original method developed by Gramoflor. Start: After sod peat extraction. The peat extraction takes place in the upper field, while in the subfield the renaturation is already happening.

The representation is not drawn to scale